Abstract

Over the last 10 weeks, I was an intern for Braehawk Tech LLC as their website administrator. Some of the skills I developed over the last 10 weeks include utilization of the WordPress Control Management System, importing and exporting database SQL files via GoDaddy.com cPanel tool, and others. I will present the website in which I have been working on, including a walkthrough of a typical maintenance scenario. Additionally I will briefly describe events that occurred that required his attention for the website including how I was able to build the structure and aesthetic for the website using WordPress.
